QUESTION #1

Score Awarded:	17 marks
Total Possible Score:	20 marks
Rating:	GOOD

This is a very good response from the candidate. Candidate demonstrated thorough knowledge and competence in all aspects of the Trial Balance and Control Ledger Account applications.

The candidate was challenged in Part (a) of the question, which tested for correct application of Trial Balance preparation and arriving at the correct Capital figure. Candidate lost three (3) marks in the following areas:

- Accounts Receivable ($49 100) was credited instead of debited.
- Both depreciation figures ($30 500 and $15 400) were shown in the debit column of the Trial Balance, instead of in the credit column.
- The Sales figure ($125 000) was placed in the debit column, instead of in the credit column; and the Accounts Payable figure ($54 200) was debited instead of being credited.
- The correct Capital figure ($61 400) was not found, due to the foregoing incorrect debit and credit entries, mentioned above.

PRINCIPLES OF ACCOUNTS – GENERAL PROFICIENCY LEVEL
PAPER 02 EXEMPLAR CRITIQUE

QUESTION #1

Score Awarded:	16 marks
Total Possible Score:	20 marks
Rating:	GOOD

This is a very good response from the candidate, losing four (4) marks from two different parts of the question.

Part (a) – Preparation of a Trial Balance

Candidate lost two (2) marks from this section for the following reasons:

- Accounts Receivable ($49 100) was entered in the credit column of the Trial Balance, instead of in the debit column.
- Accounts Payable ($54 200) was presented as a debit entry, instead of being credited; and Carriage Outwards was shown as a credit entry in the Trial Balance, instead of being presented on the debit side.
- The correct Capital figure ($61 400) was not arrived at, due to the preceding incorrect entries, mentioned above.

Part (b) (i) – Preparation of U. Plumber Account

Candidate lost two (2) marks in this section, which had been allotted a total of three (3) marks, because information was inputted incorrectly into the Debtors Control Ledger. Debit items were presented on the credit side and vice versa. Candidate obtained one (1) mark for balancing the account.
