Questions 4 and 5 are based on the following case study. Answer BOTH questions.

The conservation practices of the farmers of Perth

Perth, a rural settlement located in the hilly district of Mount Rosa, is the bread basket for the island and has a population of 900. Researchers from the Rural Development Agency were interested in the farming techniques used in the area. Two hundred farmers between the ages of 18 and 65 formed the sample for the study. The researchers interviewed the farmers and observed their farming techniques. They discovered that 80 of the farmers practised terracing, 50 contour ploughing, 40 agro forestry and 30 mixed cropping. The findings were documented and presented to farmers at a Conservation meeting.

4. (a) State the main focus of the study conducted by the researchers.

(2 marks)

- (b) Write TWO statements of fact about Perth.
