

Section 3 Question 5 CONTEXTUAL DIALOGUE

In assessing the Contextual Dialogue, the following criteria were considered:

- Adherence to the Rubric
- Content/Appropriateness of responses
- Correctness of expression

Adherence to the Rubric

- Length: The response conformed to the required length of 80-100 words. N.B. For marking purposes 70-110 words were acceptable.
- Cues: The candidate responded to ALL of the five given cues with answers which were appropriate and of an adequate length.
- Attachment of INSERT: The insert was correctly filled out and properly attached to the candidate's answer booklet.

Content/Appropriateness of Responses

All the cues were dealt with adequately and appropriate responses were given throughout. The candidate proved to be very competent in responding to the stimulus which was sometimes given before the response or in some cases, after the response. This candidate demonstrated mastery in eliciting responses from both forms of stimulus presentation.

The candidate organized and developed responses which utilized language that flowed naturally. Every stage of the dialogue was comprehensible and at no point was there any disruption in the fluidity of the conversation.

Correctness of Expression

The script presented a level of correctness of expression which was commendable for a candidate at this stage of language acquisition. Except for a few minor instances, the script demonstrated a very high competence in rendering the language with a near perfect delivery. Mastery of a variety of verb tenses was evident in the candidate's use of the Present, the Future, the Perfect and the Preterite tenses. The use of the Imperative as well as the mastery of the Object Pronouns was laudable. The candidate provided an excellent range of vocabulary, exceeding the requirements for this level of testing.

Measures for Improvement

- There could have been a more extensive use of idioms and expressions peculiar to the Spanish language.
- Care should have been taken in ensuring that written accents are placed when required.
- The script would have been greatly enhanced by the use of the Subjunctive as appropriate.

Roberto: Hola, ¿cómo te sientes?

Yo: ¡Hola Roberto! me siento un poquito mejor pero todavía tengo mucho dolor.

Roberto: ¿Qué te duele? ¿Qué tienes?

Yo: Me duele mucho el estómago y tengo
un poco de ~~febre~~ gripe.

Roberto: ¿Verdad? ¿Has visitado al médico? ¿Y, qué te dijo?

Yo: Si lo visité ayer y él me dijo que tengo que descansar y tomar estas aspirinas.

Roberto: Sí. Eso es lo que siempre recomiendan los médicos para la gripe.

Dime, ¿cuándo vas a regresar a la escuela?

Yo: *No lo sé, cuando me mejore volveré.
¿Que están haciendo todos ustedes?*

Roberto: Estamos trabajando mucho. ¡Ojalá puedas regresar pronto!

Yo: Si yo también porque tengo que hacer un examen dentro de dos semanas y necesito estar listo.

Roberto: No te preocupes. Vamos a ayudarte.

Yo: gracias Roberto ¿Que han hecho en la escuela mientras yo no estaba?

Roberto: Hemos comenzado a leer un nuevo texto de literatura y estamos haciendo muchos ejercicios en español.

Yo: Que bueno, después me pasan las notas.

Roberto: ¿Sabes? Mario y Josefina ganaron el concurso de baile que el club había organizado.

Yo: ¿En serio? ¡Que buenas noticias! Diles que estoy muy orgulloso de ellos.

Roberto: Bueno, hasta luego y que te mejores pronto.

Yo: *Gracias Roberto por venir a visitarme.
Mandale a todos mis saludos.*
